TIGER LILY

FOREWORD

---and now we are graduating, going on to what? Whatever it may be, it will be the finest and best that life has to offer, because we shall make it so. May we desire only the worthwhile things and let those things of little value pass beneath our glance.

BECAUSE she is sincerely interested in us -- our school work, our activities, our ambitions, and because she has helped us through our high school years with her friendly, encouraging smile, we dedicate our TIGER LILY to our librarian, Miss Eleanor Rumsey.

TO OUR STUDENTS:

It is my desire to see each student derive the most enjoyment from his three years of high school life: To that end, may I suggest, we develop Our School Spirit to the point where we not only want, but will have that desire, that fire, to make us the best students; to have the best Football and Basketball Teams, the best Band, and the best Glee Club in the country.

Let us be team-minded, and no matter how hard the task—PLAY TO WIN.

My congratulations and best wishes to our seniors.

Dr. D. C. Hanna, Jr.

Supervising Principal

To the Senior Class

DEAR SENIORS:

You have the distinction of being members of the largest class ever to be graduated from our high school, but numbers do not necessarily mean greatness.

I believe one of the things wrong with our present day civilization is that we have too many followers and not enough leaders of the right kind. The leaders of the next few years must come from the ranks of the young people who are now enrolled in our secondary schools and colleges. These leaders should be taught to think clearly and independently so that they will not be led astray by the many false doctrines that are being advocated by different groups in our country.

We have tried to adapt our high school curriculum to the needs of a new social order and to help you lay the foundation for the career of your choice.

We shall always be interested in your welfare and wish you success in whatever useful vocation you may choose to follow.

Sincerely,

FRED N. HARDY

Alma Mater

Although Yale has always favored
The Violet's dark blue,
And the gentle sons of Harvard
To the crimson rose are true,
We will own the lily slender;
Nor honor shall it lack While Port High stands defender of
The Orange and the Black.

Through the four long years of high school
Mid the scenes we know so well,
As the mystic charm to knowledge
We vainly try to spell,
Or we win athletic victories
On the football field and track,
Still we work for dear old Port High and
The Orange and the Black.

When the cares of life o'ertake us
Mingling fast our locks with gray,
Should our dearest hopes betray us
False fortune fall our way;
Still we banish care and sadness
As we turn our memories back
And recall those days of gladness
'Neath the Orange and the Black.

When a group of students from our neighboring hamlets and immediate vicinity entered our marble halls of learning, they received their assignments of duties and began work with eagerness and fervor. In time this group of novices became acquainted and organized. In their second year the class of '39 was still lacking the graces of those who had been here longer but felt at least somewhat more skilled than those coming after them. They furnished proof of the skill which they had acquired during the year by holding a very colorful Prom.

During their last year, the seniors were able to boast of a greater representation of their numbers in the activities of skill and combat than had been true in any previous year. Their class of sixty-five members is the largest to be graduated from this school so far—an honor of which they are justly proud. Their members were active in all important activities and they were also given the honor and responsibility of presenting for the entertainment of the public the play Big Hearted Herbert. They have completed their high school training and no doubt will often wish they were back within the sheltered and friendly halls of Port High.

The class of '40 with fifty-nine ambitious members has proved to be an outstanding class in its first two years of senior high school. It has served its Alma Mater with eleven boys on the football team, three on the basketball team, and seven girls playing basketball. Wesley Van Dorn is captain-elect of next year's football squad. Joyce Jervis and Betty Nichols are cheerleaders. Twelve juniors are members of the band and eight belong to the orchestra.

The outstanding event of the year was the Junior Prom, held in the high school gym, which was gaily decorated in green and white, the senior class colors. The music was furnished by Bud's Orchestra.

The seventy members of the sophomore class were initiated into senior high school by a reception given by the seniors on October 1, 1938. The scene thrust before the lipstick-daubed faces of the sophomores was that of Hades and the victims were brought to their judgement before Satan himself.

The class of '41 has shown initiative in all school activities including the assembly programs. It has placed twenty-three members in the Glee Club, four in the orchestra, nine in the band, seven in the boys' basketball team, three on the football team, and eight on the girls' basketball team.

For the Sophomore Hop given for the seniors on March 31, the gym was gaily decorated in green and white and the music was furnished by Dick O'Day and his orchestra.

The Tiger Lily staff of the class of 1939 has introduced several innovations in the year book's twenty-sixth annual appearance.

These new features include among other things a leather cover, new articles, new types of photography. A new high in the advertising and circulation departments was reached by Russell Pfeil and James Caskey.

The edition of the Tiger Lily has become a Port High tradition and the 1939 staff has striven to carry that custom to new heights. Your approval will be the yardstick that measures our success.

PRESS CLUB

In its fourth year of existence the Press Club has an enrollment of fifteen members. The club, which is under the supervision of Miss McFarland, has as its main project, the editing and publishing of the high school semi-monthly newspaper, "The Bugle."

The activities of the Press Club are not for the benefit of the members themselves. Everyone in the high school looks forward to reading "The Bugle," and the Press Club assumes the responsibility of publishing interesting news.

Each member of the club takes an active part; besides doing journalistic writing, members are assigned to interview visiting lecturers and entertainers. Among those interviewed by the Press Club during the current year were Samuel W. Grathwell, Dixie Melody Masters, Robert Wood, Croatian Tamburitza Ensemble, and Jessie Rae Taylor.

At the semi-monthly club meetings, special studies were made of human interest stories, reports on plays, programs, musical performances, and society news. Each member kept a scrapbook containing these notes together with his own "Bugle" articles.

This year the Press Club sponsored a contest for the selection of the most outstanding boy and girl and conducted several polls to get student opinions on current questions.

The forty-two members of the Port Biology Club have upheld the splendid reputation of their five-year old club with a very active, successful year. The boys enjoyed several parties at the Potter Game Club and during the winter they held ski hikes.

At their P. B. C. meetings during the activity period, students of the three high school classes competed in working biology quizzes. Several of the members gave talks on subjects of their own selection,

The club paper, The Leaflet, was published in the form of a yearbook this year instead of as a monthly magazine, which was the custom in former years. This splendid production was capably edited by Maurice Cooper and his staff.

The members receive pins with the well-known P. B. C. emblem as tokens of their club years.

The Port Allegany chapter of the national organization of Future Farmers of America has carried out its projects for the school year 1938-39 with a vim that could be rewarded only with success.

On June 15, 1938, thirteen boys with their adviser Mr. Cherrington went to the state F. F. A. Week at State College, Pennsylvania, to take part in the convention frolic.

Five senior members and Mr. Cherrington went to the state Farm Show in Harrisburg on January 15, 1939. To help pay expenses, the group held a rifle raffle. This profit together with the money obtained from the successful raising of three acres of potatoes payed for an educational trip that will be long remembered by those who took part.

The club's motto embodys the true vocational spirit:

"Learning to do,
Doing to learn;
Earning to live,
Living to serve."

The Boys' Gym Club increased its membership this year to twenty one members, all of whom excel in sports and have made this a successful year for gymnastic activities in P. A. H. S.

Boxing has become a popular sport in Port High this year with the three future pugilists, Norman Jordan, Robert Baker, and August Klein, proving their merits at the club meetings during the school activity period.

On the horse and on the horizontal bars other members of the club have shown their respective abilities as they practised for the annual Gym Show, which was held April 4 and 5. Coach Maglisceau trained the members in the art of head stands, hand stands, hurdles, twists, and flips on the horse and bars. Another sport, volley ball, was very popular with the boys this year.

GIRLS' GYM CLUB

OFFICERS

President Ruth Anderson
Secretary and Treasurer Evelyn Engblom
Sports Manager Jane Thrash

The objective of the Girls' Gym Club is to promote all sport activities and to provide opportunity for all girls who wish to participate in a wide variety of sports.

During the fall the upper class girls played the sophomores in hockey, the upper class team being victorious. At one meeting the sophomores starred at tag football. The winter season brought practice in stunts and tumbling for the annual Gym Show.

The sixteen members helped plan a point system for the award of a numeral or letter to stand for participation in all sports. This method of award will be an important step toward a more successful sports program. A new felt emblem in the form of a winged foot in the school colors was designed by Jane Thrash and adopted as the club insignia.

Fall and spring lunch hikes were enjoyed as well as a successful venture on skiis.

The Port Steno's Club, which was made a standard club this year to meet during the semi-monthly period, has continued to study business in its second year of activity. At each meeting a new program committee is chosen to entertain the ten club members for the following meeting. The club activities include working crossword puzzles in shorthand, making holiday cards on the typewriter, reading business plays, and learning about the types of persons most successful in the business world.

The club members presented The Potter Pancake Co., a play about two young business girls in an office, during the assembly hour on Friday, March 3. The club duplicated program cards announcing this chapel program.

LIBRARY CLUB

What can I do? We can't all be teachers or nurses. There wouldn't be work, and besides we wouldn't be happy. This year nine girls under the guidance of Miss Rumsey are exploring the field of library science. Perhaps we would like to be librarians.

Let us look at our own library. We are very much pleased to have it in a new and larger room. The books look attractive in rows along two walls. We had never thought much about the arrangement. Now we know that the books are classified and grouped according to the Dewey Decimal System. This means that all the books on any subject are found together. For example, the books on the French Revolution are numbered 944 and kept on one shelf. The fiction is kept by itself, and another section reserved for encyclopedias and reference books.

Just as a book is indexed, so is our library. The card catalog is the author, title, and subject index to the books in our collection. Here you may find what books we have by a certain author, whether or not we have a certain title, and what information we have on a given subject.

Making the cards for this catalog looks simple, but we spent several club periods learning the fundamentals. Some workers in large libraries do nothing but classify and catalog.

Some of us would like that, while others would rather join the staff in the reference or circulation departments.

Wouldn't it be fun to work in the children's department of a public library, or be the librarian in a grade school? Little folks like the stories you tell them and the books you help them select. They tell you most amusing things. The librarian may sometimes be permitted to hear or read their original stories and poems.

By means of a moving picture we have been given a good idea of book binding.

Perhaps our greatest pleasure has come from book talks and reviews of current popular books.

GLEE

Under the leadership of Mr. Roderick, the Boys' and Girls' Glee Club, boasting a membership of ninety, has been a great asset to Port High. The Glee Club met each Wednesday afternoon in the auditorium to rehearse the songs for its various public appearances.

The crowning success of the Glee Club was the operetta Campus Daze presented in the high school auditorium, March 16 and 17. The leading parts were taken by Joyce Jervis, Robert Baker, Betty Anderson, Dwight Hanna, Wesley Van Dorn, Ruth Anderson, Arthur Wylie, August Klein, Alice Jane Anderson, and Jack Kinney. Other capable students filled minor roles and the remainder of the Glee Club made up the dancing and singing choruses.

The Port Allegany Glee Club members who entered the Forensic League Contest at Bradford are Betty Anderson, Jane Robbins, and Ruth Anderson, the girls' trio; Joyce Jervis, soprano; Mary Griffith, alto; Dwight Hanna, baritone; and Dolores Townsend, pianist.

The Port Allegany Hi-Y Club began the year with an enrollment of thirty. At the first of the year the club enjoyed several skating parties at Ceres and social gatherings with the Tri-Hi-Y. In January the Hi-Y attended the County-wide Rally at Mt. Jewett. In January the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y held a rally at Port Allegany with a record breaking attendance of 450. In February the club entered the Bible Study Contest which was planned to carry through to the end of the year. These contest studies were presented by Mr. Wright and Mr. Guthrie and were discussed by the club. The studies, which dealt with many of the every day problems of boys, proved very interesting and helpful.

The Tri-Hi-Y, composed of approximately forty girls from the junior and the senior high school, spent an active year.

At Christmas time, the girls packed baskets to be distributed to the needy.

On January 9 they cooperated with the Hi-Y in holding a most successful rally which attracted over 400 guests from surrounding communities. A meeting was conducted by the county advisers and officers in the auditorium. Following was an entertaining program after which refreshments were served in the gym.

Later in the same month a community prayer service was held in the high school auditorium for the purpose of enlisting support for the projects of the Y. M. C. A. During the year the club had sponsored tea dances, a Book Week, a No-Gossip Week, and a Go-to-Church campaign.

In the latter part of March the girls gave a faculty party and in May a formal party concluded the year's program.

BAND

Director Mr. D. M. Roderick

The high school band which consists of forty members has taken great strides during the past year under the direction of our talented instructor, Mr. Roderick.

The band played at the home football games and along with the junior band made its marching debut at the Smethport game, Armistice Day. Ninety boys and girls marched and played for the final game of the year.

The band met every Tuesday evening and Thursday afternoon to practice for the band concert which it presented February 16, in the high school auditorium. A little German band helped to amuse the listeners.

Many beginners purchased instruments and learned to play them at band rehearsals and at private lessons given by Mr. Roderick.

Director Mr. D. M. Roderick

To Mr. Roderick and twenty-five ambitious musicians, Port High owes its successful year of music. With the advent of ten new musicians at the beginning of the year, the orchestra space in the auditorium had to be enlarged. To the beginners Mr. Roderick gave private lessons until they were able to play their instruments well enough to help this growing orchestra to gain its present reputation.

This enthusiastic group of students played for the Community Fair entertainments, Big Hearted Herbert, the Tri-Hi-Y community church service, and Campus Daze. It never failed the chapel programs or the special features presented throughout the year. During these programs it played orchestral numbers and several members presented instrumental solos.

Port High's orchestra was represented at the Forensic League Music Conest in Bradford by Dwight Hanna, who played a French horn solo, and Maurice Cooper, who played a trumpet solo.

"Big Hearted Herbert," a delightful comedy, was presented by the senior class under the direction of Miss McFarland assisted by Miss Rumsey, Miss Dennin, and Jane Robbins, on November 17 and 18, in the high school auditorium. The enthusiasm of the class in selling tickets resulted in an audience which filled the auditorium to capacity.

The whole cast acted well as a team and individually. The excellent coaching and the hard work of the stage crew stood behind the work of the actors to make "Big Hearted Herbert" a complete success.

OFFICERS

President	Helen Spencer
Vice President	Mary Kio
Secretary	Phyllis Lyons
Treasurer	Jacqueline Boudon
Reporter	Beatrice Lehman
Adviser	Miss Dennin

The S. P. Q. R. Club started this season successfully by staging a Roman Style Show at which time snapshots were taken of the various costumes.

The Club held a very enjoyable Saturnalian Party under the direction of Miss Dennin. The party was originally planned to be held at the Potter Game Club, but because of bad weather, it was held in the Latin room of the senior high school. An enjoyable evening was spent in playing games, singing Latin songs, and eating a delicious lunch.

A great many of the club meetings were given over to framing pictures and preparing decorations to modernize the Latin room.

The event climaxing the club's activities for the year was the Spring Party held at the Potter Game Club. The party began with a dinner followed by entertainment consisting of games, Latin songs, and dancing.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

On March 31, Supervising Principal Fred N. Hardy announced in chapel the election of Mary Lacney, Lois Scherer, James Caskey, Russell Pfeil, Gail Causer, and Raymond Johnson from the class of 1939 to the National Honor Society for Secondary Schools. These new members brought the number chosen from P. A. H. S. since a chapter was organized here in 1923, to 93. Chosen on the basis of scholarship, service, leadership, and character, they thus received the highest honor obtainable by a high school student.

Last year an alumni organization was formed to promote the ideals of the society and to encourage the fellowship among the members. The officers chosen were Charles Catlin, president, and Rhea Springstead, secretary-treasurer.

On April 12 this year, the alumni gave a banquet in the Masonic dining room in honor of the new members. Mr. Hardy and C. J. Alderfer of Smethport, former principal under whose sponsorship the local chapter was organized were also guests, Mr. Alderfer being the banquet speaker. Officers for the coming year were chosen and the new members inducted into the chapter.

FOOTBALL REVIEW

Port High in 1938 enjoyed its most successful season in recent years, winning six out of eight games and piling up 150 points against 51 for the opposition.

With Jim Caskey, Ray Johnson, and Augie Klein setting the offensive pace, behind a strong line, the Gators carried off the County Class B Championship for the second time in three years. Port beat its county rivals by the composite score of 46 to 12, Smethport alone scoring against Port.

Port opened the season in fine style, beating Eldred 12-0, with Ray Johnson making a sparkling debut and gaining 112 yards through the line. Jim Caskey scored Port's first touchdown on the end of a 64 yard run.

Port's second game was the first home game and the boys drubbed Bradford Jayvees, 31-0, with Caskey making three touchdowns. Vern Thoren and Wes Van Dorn did excellent work on the line.

The next week Port moved against its second county rival, Otto Township, and won 7-0, with Caskey scoring the touchdown and Johnson the point. Pat Smith, Captain Ed Goochee, and Mart Sawyer were outstanding on the line.

The Gators struck a snag the following Saturday when Portville stopped them 6-0, a tough one to lose in as much as Port played rings around Portville. Augie Klein started his first game and ran the New Yorkers ragged. Van Dorn and Goochee were the tough boys on the forward wall, and Jack Kinney kicked beautifully.

Emporium reversed Port 20 to 7 the next week. The real tough luck came when Eddie Hughes suffered a broken leg while dragging down a pass from Baker. The entire backfield played good ball, but the line bagged down. Jack Kinney's educated toe was up to its usual good form.

Port came out of its slump at Coudersport the next week, hanging up a 39-13 win, in a game that marked Eddie Goochee's final high school appearance on the line. Augie Klein provided the big thrill with a 72 yard touchdown run. Ray Johnson scored three touchdowns and Jim Caskey made the best broken-field run of the year, a 35 yard dash through tackle.

The Gators kept the ball rolling against Bolivar, winning in a romp, 27 to 0. Caskey and Johnson scored twice each, and on the line Art Wylie, Vern Thoren, and Pat Smith stood out.

Port won its season by larruping its traditional rival, Smethport, 27-12, Johnson, Baker, Klein, and Caskey going to town. The line also played great ball.

Jim Caskey was named All-County quarterback. Ray Johnson and Ed Goochee received honorable mention. At the football banquet it was announced that the players had chosen Wes Van Dorn to lead the 1939 football team.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

Port High went through one of its worst basketball seasons in 1938-39, losing 11 games without registering a single entry on the credit side. Port was outscored 186 to 431.

Port's outstanding player was Jack McGonnell, who was named season captain at the end of the year.

Jim Caskey was high scorer with 46 points, McGonnell second with 34, and Hanna third with 32. Caskey made the most field goals, 19, and Hanna the most free shots, 12.

Season record:

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Because surrounding towns did not have girls' varsity basketball teams this year, Port High had to be contented with interclass games. After this disappointment was forgotten, the girls took an active interest in these games. There were no upsets in the round of victories but many of the games were very close.

The dominant team was that of the seniors. These lassies headed by Freeda Georgetson, one of Port's fastest forwards, won every interclass game in which they competed. The senior girls that received letters were Freeda Georgetson-Captain, Helen Adams-Manager, Evelyn Hendrickson, Dolores Townsend, Jane Robbins, Alice Doloway, Bette Anderson, Bernice Robbins, and Martha Slottje.

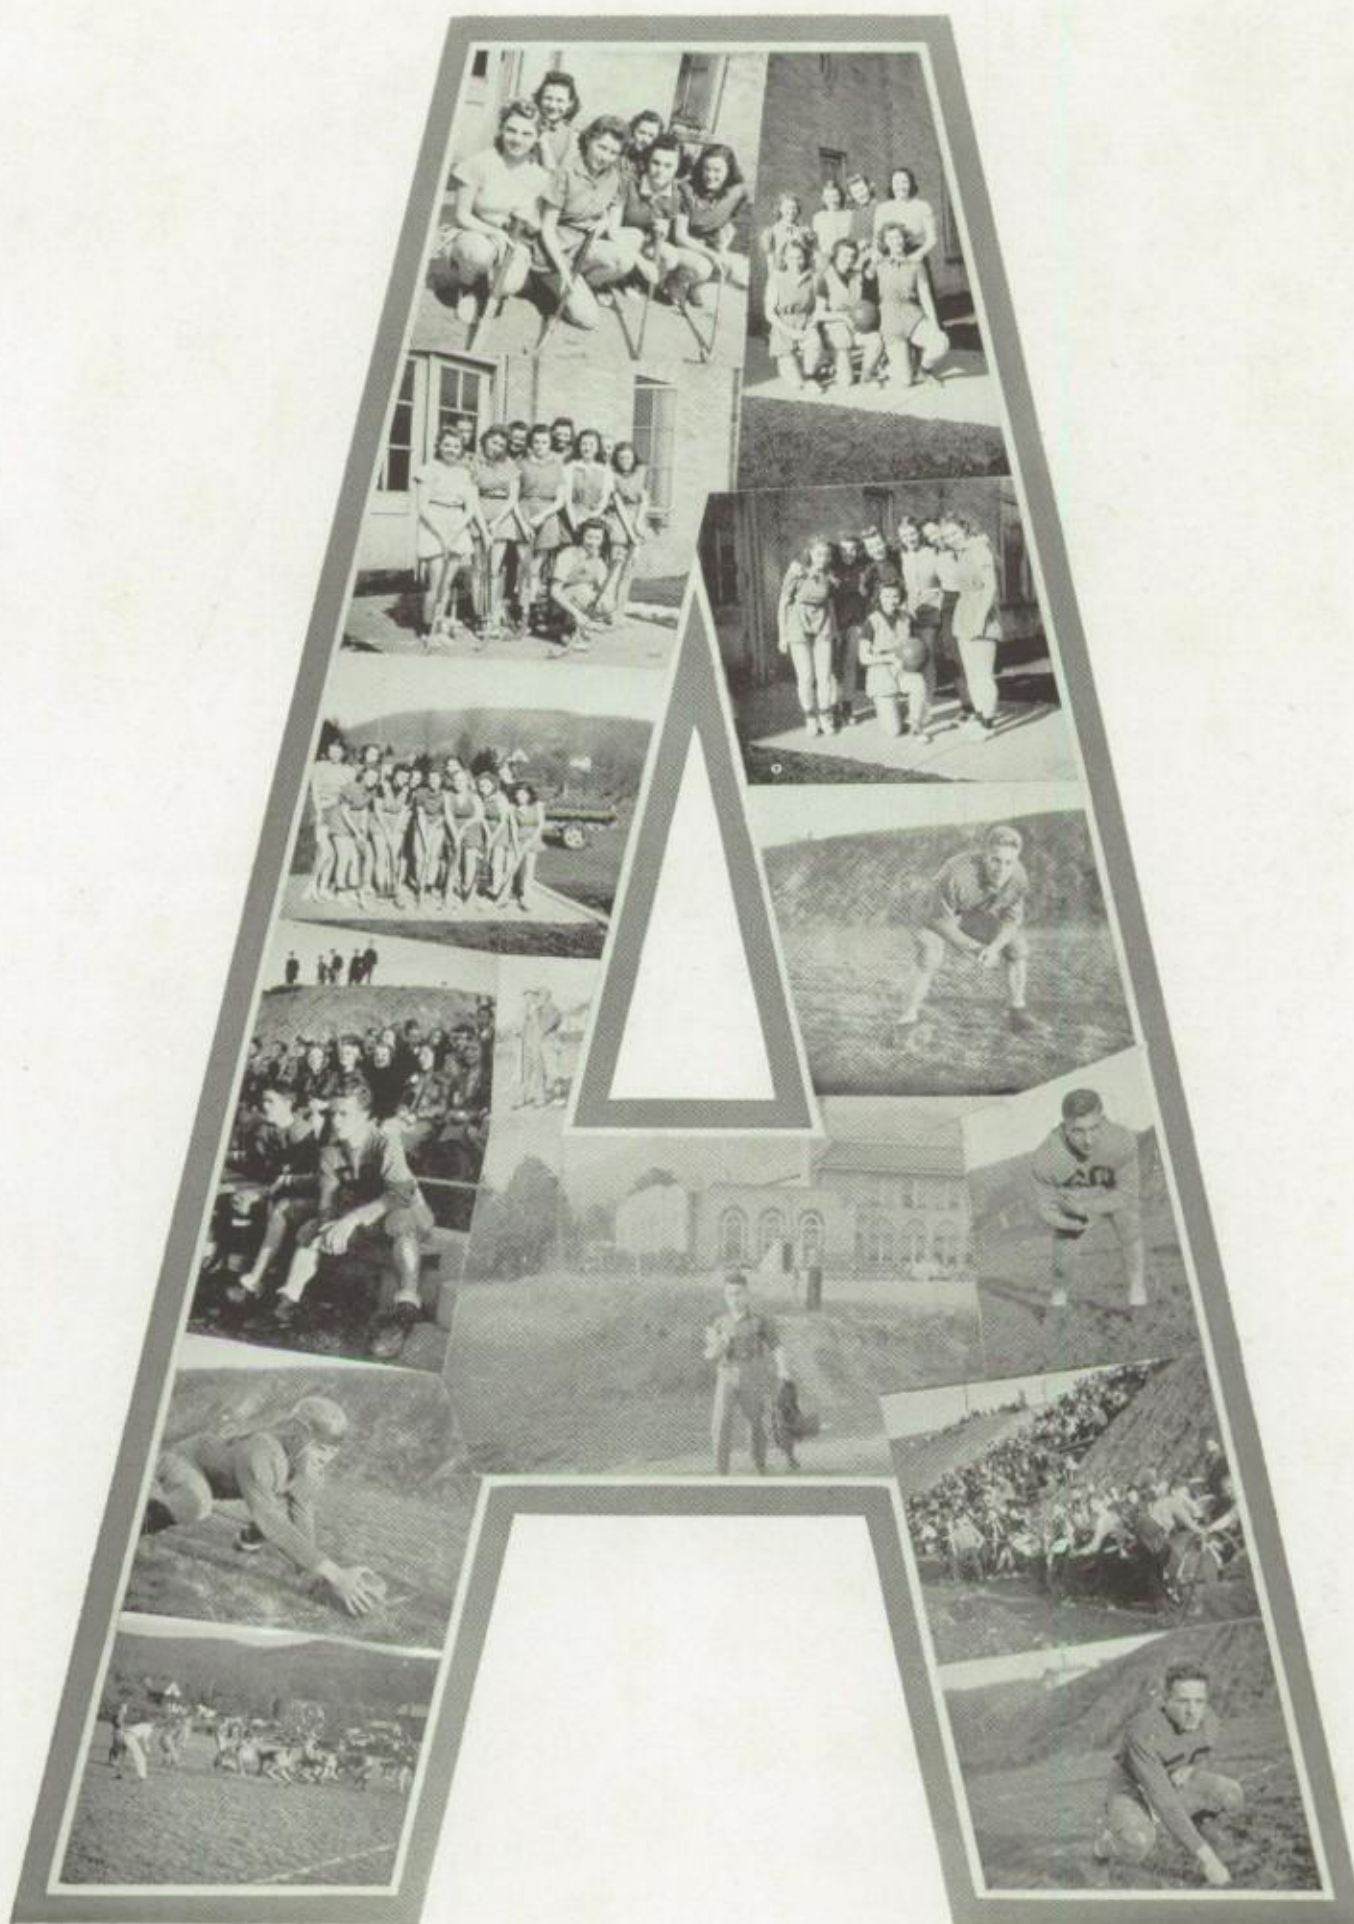

The junior team, headed by Kathleen Teater, had only one unfulfilled ambition—to win from the seniors.

The sophomore team, led by Joanna Shields, showed good possibilities but didn't seem to get organized until the last of the season.

The freshmen practiced hard and faithfully but were hindered by being short in stature.

The junior and senior teams competed with the junior and senior teams of the Emporium High School. Although the seniors were defeated by a score of 14-10, the junior team came away with a 16-15 victory. The sophomore and freshmen teams challenged the Emporium teams and succeeded in defeating them. The home teams entertained the visiting girls on each trip.

All of the girls are to be congratulated on the fine spirit and clean play which they displayed during the year.

A hard-driving, hard-hitting senior team retained their championship of last year by winning all of the games in which they competed.

Because of unfavorable weather conditions, a second round of games was impossible. The Port lassies won over the strong Emporium team with a score of 3 to 1. This was the first interscholastic game ever to be held here but plans have been made for more next year. With this year's championship senior team out of competition, next year's rivalry will doubtless be keener.

THIRTEEN YEARS LATER

The place is Mars. The time is 1952 A. D. The master-minds of Martian scientists have evolved a telemicroscope with which they can study with ease those queer little creatures on earth. Chizzelbud and Woopeldip are seriously engrossed in recording what they observe. At first everything is a blurring maze, but as they focus the lens, two brilliant Martians can clearly see what is going on down there on earth. They shake their square greenish-blue heads in amazement as they see these strange things:

George Todd has turned his huge photo-engraving business over to his assistant, while he takes time out to run for President of the United States. Lois Scherer after seeing her latest play, Memories of P. A. H. S., become a record-breaking Broadway success is running against George. It looks like an exciting election this year.

Charles Barron, who was transferred from his job as railway postal clerk to postmaster-general during the last administration, will probably lose his job after the coming election. Helen Adams is the private secretary to Gail Causer, who is the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

Focusing the telemicroscope northward, the Martians find Russell Pfeil, the famous surgeon, and Iola Strait, well-known international beautician, working hand in hand in an attempt to lift the face of Miss America of 1942, Helen Victory. Shirley Moore, Dr. Pfeil's stenographer, is at hand to take notes on this delicate procedure.

From Radio City, New York, the scientists hear a loud roar of applause, which is the twelfth encore for Honey Townsend, the head organist for the Radio City Music Hall.

Nearby, in the Metropolitan Opera House, Midge Griffith is making her debut as Carmen. Her husband, Philip Larcom, is her chief critic, and while she is working he takes care of their two-year old twins, Philip and Mary.

Donald Hendrickson, famous author, has just bought the Woolworth Building for his private use and hired Evelyn Masterson, Christine Chandler, Hazel Flanagan, Martha Stromberg, and Alice Doloway as his secretaries to take care of his mammoth fan mail.

On Times Square, Freeda Georgetson is offering a free airplane ride with every soda. Raymond Johnson is piloting the excursion plane.

Jim Caskey and Norm Jordan have captured the pocket billiard doubles championship at Madison Square Garden, Jim making a decisively sloppy shot.

At the Polo Grounds we find Coach Ed Goochee and his undefeated football team practising for their coming world championship game.

Dan Gilluly has just been signed up with the New York Yankees for 50,000 dollars.

Down at the docks the Martians observe Martha Boyle, Bernice Robbins, Martha Slottje, and Mary Lacney about to embark to help some unfortunate pygmies being attacked by Arthur Wylie, Jack Thrash, and Delton Simar, who are attempting to kidnap their women.

Now gazing back at the International Casino on Times Square we find Maurice Cooper and his famous Harmonettes. Maurice has been lucky enough to sign up the noted pianist Mariam Eastman and the popular radio singer Theresa Boudon.

Through the wilds of the north woods, Trapper Edward Eschenfelder is guiding a party of city slickers. Since he was graduated from P. A. H. S. in '39, Eddie has never been near a town of over forty inhabitants.

Bill Colwell, talented surveyor, has been attempting for the last thirteen years to combine surveying and trigonometry successfully.

At Two Mile, Evelyn Engblom and Evelyn Hendrickson have revived the lost art of jitterbugging. Helen Spencer and Hazel Taylor have become six day bike riders with Walter Johnson as their chief mechanic.

Willis Lovell and Bob Royal, forest rangers, are rushing to Allegany State Park to fight a forest fire set by two hoboes, believed to be Francis Shields and Jack Kinney. Sam Springstead, although he has frequent attacks of rheumatism, is still the fastest pinsetter at the Port Allegany bowling alleys.

That happily married couple, Betty Anderson and Pete Ryan, are tuning in their radio to listen to the noted preacher Paul Strang. George Sawyer and Letha Strait have combined their efforts to promote a scientific chicken farm.

Harold Smith is taking Mr. Bates position at P. A. H. S., because Mr. Bates has left on an expedition to discover the secret of the gooey-duck. Jack McGonnell is now head engineer of the Niagara Electric Company with Everett Painter as his chief mathematician. Margaret Masterson and George Harde have opened up a new square dance hall at Turtle Point. Howard Manning now owns the planing mill at Port Allegany.

Alice Curtis, Marian Knapp, June Loucks, and Leona Mantz, progressive married women, have moved with their husbands to Siberia where a new matrimonial experiment is being attempted by the United States under the supervision of Jane Robbins.

Anthony Baker, a successful farmer, is now doing experimental work on combining Mexican jumping beans with pancake flour.

Last but not least, Bob Isherwood is on a South Sea Island where he is beating his drums for a bevy of beautiful Bali Bali girls.

Still unable to analyze this odd human race, the Martian scientists turn away from their telemicroscope wondering what this class of '39 will do next.

CLASS WILL

We are not writing this will because the class of '39 is dead, for although we are leaving the halls of Port High, never to return, we are far from dead—all through our lives we shall carry with us the memory of these days of good fellowship and long after we have all passed away there will still linger about the halls and classrooms of Port High some of the spirit of the class of '39.

June Loucks leaves her boisterous manner to Betty Ann Caden

Shirley Moore leaves her willowy form to Jane Coneys

Charles Barron bequeaths his quiet manner to Ralph Dillenbeck

Edward Eschenfelder wills his Ralston six shooter to Dick Richner

George Todd, with misgivings, leaves Edith Anderson

William Colwell leaves his physique to Wes Van Dorn

Jim Caskey leaves his football ability to John Cook

Mariam Knapp bequeaths her gift of gab to Peggy Holden

Midge Griffith refuses to leave Phil Larcom

Jack McGonnell leaves his "umph" to Bob Baker

Freeda Georgetson bequeaths her studious appearance to Kate Teater

Honey Townsend leaves the piano to Alice Jane Anderson

Raymond Johnson and Edward Goochee bestow upon Augie Klein and Eddie Hughes their way with women

Russ Pfeil leaves his initials on the desks

Hazel Flanagan and Christine Chandler leave their old love letters to Alice Lamont

Letha and Iola Strait leave the Plymouth to the twins

Woody Lovell wills his huskiness to Verne Thoren

Hazel Taylor leaves her fast walk to Phyllis Lyons

Pivit Painter bequeaths his swagger to Pete Hanna

Jack Thrash leaves his annual hunting season vacation to Billy Martz

Bob Royal bequeaths his rifle to Mart Sawyer

Bob Isherwood leaves his sleight-of-hand ability to William Brookins

Gail Causer bequeaths his cockiness to Bob Pfeil

Sam Springstead leaves his jitterbugging to Jim Healy

Evelyn and Margaret Masterson bequeath the library a book entitled "Square Dancing in Ten Easy Lessons"

Mary Lacney wills her good-naturedness to Bets Nichols

Helen Adams leaves her demureness to
Edna Anderson

Martha Slottje bequeaths her height to Jacque Boudon

Bette Anderson leaves everything but
Pete

Alice Doloway wills her athletic ability to Bessie Petteys

George Hardes leaves his square dance calling to Donald Kanally

George Sawyer leaves his feminine admirers to John Todd

Delton Simar leaves his shyness to Clifford Oliver

Martha Boyle leaves her proposals to Frances Meade

Paul Strang bequeaths his red hair to Carol Strang

Art Wylie leaves his poor excuses to any one who can make use of them

Jack Kinney leaves his perfect attendance record to Lynn Ostrander

Martha Boyle bequeaths her height to Hazel Stromberg

Lois Scherer leaves her acting ability to James Redington

Jane Robbins leaves her size to Lillian Mulholland

Walt Johnson turns the tannery over to Deacon Bosworth

Phil Larcom leaves everything he has left

Anthony Baker leaves his position in F.
F. A. to Harold Johnson

Bernice Robbins leaves her affairs of the heart to the Strait twins. It will take two to untangle 'em!

Martha Stromberg wills her charm to Esther Hurd

Donald Hendrickson leaves his presidential seat to any one who can fill it

The seniors leave a book on "Bringing up Babies" to Mr. Maglisceau

Maurice Cooper bequeaths his versatility to Laverne Lewis

Leona Mantz and Alice Curtis leave their mild manner to Beulah Moore

Theresa Boudon leaves her scholastic ability to Robert Larson

Helen Victory leaves her personality to Matilda Turner

Dan Gilluly leaves his sport column in the "Bugle" to anyone capable of handling it

If the teachers want anything more from us, we can't imagine what it is.
To them we can only say—thanks for helping us through our twelve years of school and may we prove worthy of your efforts.

As a memorable touch to the end of the probation period of the Class of '40, the seniors gave a reception on October 1.

On the stage which was gruesomely decorated as Hades, each victim was made to do the will of the devil, Charles Barron, and his associates. After the pipe of peace had been presented to the sophomore president, Donald Kanally, by his senior equal, Donald Hendrickson, all the guests gathered in the gym for dancing and refreshments.

FOOTBALL BANQUET

The members of the Port High football team and their guests were entertained by the boys' mothers at a banquet held in the Swedish Parish House, December 8. The room was decorated in Orange and Black, and at each place was a football place card. Among the guests whom toastmaster Joseph Teater called upon to speak were Coach Maglisceau, Coach Scott, Mr. Hardy, Mrs. Caskey, and captain-elect Wesley Van Dorn. After dinner the guests enjoyed dancing in the high school gymnasium.

TEA DANCES

The Tri-Hi-Y Club sponsored successful tea dances every Monday night after school during December, January, and February. The victrola-radio furnished music for the pupils and their teachers. The Tri-Hi-Y girls acted as tutors for those who were interested in learning to dance and as partners for the accomplished "jitterbugs."

SOPHOMORE HOP

In honor of the seniors, the sophomores entertained at the Sophomore Hop on March 31. Dick O'Day's orchestra furnished the music for the dancing under the green and white ceiling. During the intermission the guests played bingo and Ann Therese Boudon, Lois Hughes, and Midge Griffith sang and danced.

SENIOR BAZAAR

The Senior Bazaar, held in the high school on April 14 and 15, featured booths, bingo, and a movie. The Harmonettes furnished music for round dancing Friday night and The Farm Boys played for the square dancing Saturday night.

JUNIOR PROM

The annual Junior Prom was held in the high school gymnasium on April 28. The gymnasium was gaily decorated in the seniors' class colors, green and white. Music for dancing was furnished by Bud's orchestra.

SPECIAL CHAPEL PROGRAMS

The first special program was presented by the Little Theater Workshop on October 7. The Dixie Melody Masters, negro singers, played a return engagement on October 31. On November 28 Robert Wood entertained the assembly with a variety of amusing cartoons. The Croatian Tamburitza Ensemble presented Jugoslavian folk music on January 9. On February 14, Samuel W. Grathwell gave an interesting talk about China and Japan. The final program was presented on March 14 by an impersonator, Miss Jessie Rae Taylor.

PEPPER POT

Healy: "I'm smoking a terrible lot of cigars lately."

Wylie: "You certainly are if that's one of them."

Mr. Bates: "I would like a preparation of phenylisothiocyanate."

Drug Clerk: "Do you mean mustard oil?"

Mr. Bates: "Yes, I can never think of that name."

Lecturer (in a small town): "Of course, you all know what the inside of a corpuscle is like."

Chairman of the meeting (interrupting): "Most of us do, but ye better explain it for the benefit of them as have never been inside one."

'Taint So

Rastus: "All the money nowadays is tainted."

Sambo: "What do you mean by tainted?"

Rastus: "'Taint yours and 'taint mine."

Br-r-r

Jerk Barron was greatly annoyed for about a week by a noisy cat which kept him awake nights. One night he chased the cat and caught it. The cat howled so loudly that it woke the rest of the neighborhood. They rushed out and found Jerk holding the cat by the tail and shivering in his light pajamas.

"Whatcha doin'?" they asked.

"Go away," chattered Jerk, "Can't you see I'll have him frozen to death in a couple of minutes?"

His Honor: "What, you again? Didn't I tell you the last time you were here that I never wanted to see your face again?"

Pete R: "Sure, and I told the cop, but I couldn't make him believe it."

Toddy: "My intellect is my fortune."

Edith: "Oh well, poverty isn't a crime."

There was an accident and many people gathered about the wrecked car when someone drove up and cried to the man that was lying underneath, "Say, Russ, have an accident?"

"Naw," came from beneath the car, "I just had one."

Bob Baker: "Honestly, Honey, you're the first girl I've ever loved."

Honey: "Gosh, you must think I don't realize it."

Simar: "What are you doing with that lamp post?"

Smithy: "I'm taking it home for a souvenir."

Simar: "Souvenir of what?"

Smith: "My first big wreck."

Snowy: "Do you object to petting, Helen?"

Helen: "That is something I've never done, Snowy."

Snowy: "Petted?"

Helen: "Objected."

Caskey: "Miss White is complaining that her picture doesn't look like her in the least."

Photographer: "Complaining, eh? She ought to be grateful."

A village parson's daughter eloped in her father's clothes. The next day the village paper came out with an account of the elopement. It was headed, "Flees in Father's Pants."

"Norm is growing a mustache on the installment plan."

"How come?"

"A little down per week."

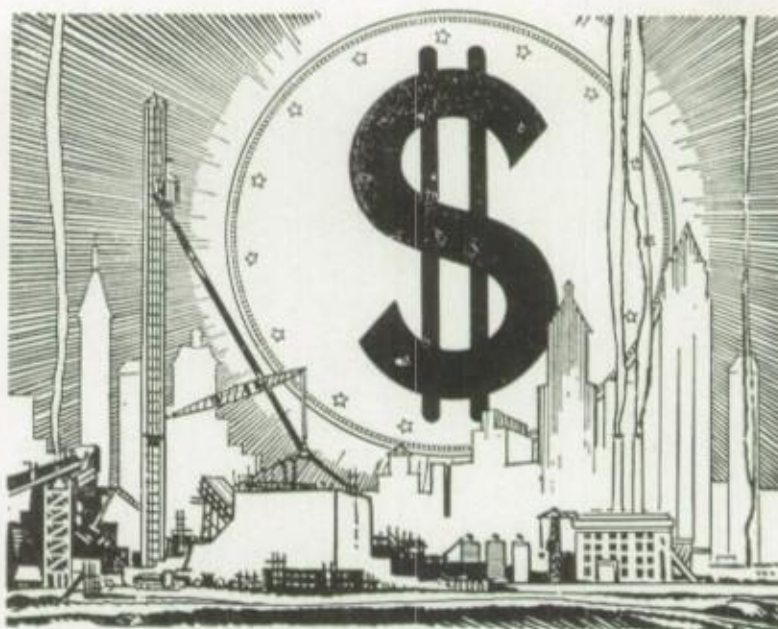

When the Prof. catches you smoking in the hall, be nonchalant—light out!

Very Grateful

Red: "Will you marry me, dear?"

Midge: "No, but I'll always respect you because of your choice."

Productive Lives— Productive Dollars

WISE use of both talents and money increases productivity.

ONLY as we employ our talents wisely do they become a Blessing to ourselves and a Benefit to the race.

WHEN a dollar is spent to harness a waterfall, the materials and labor employed perform a service that will probably last over 100 years.

WHEN a dollar is spent to build a home it makes productive use of the labor and materials involved for over 50 years, when it is used in the purchase of an automobile, its productive life is about ten years.

IF THE dollar is spent for clothing it may last for 5 years or only 1 year. When it is spent to buy tobacco, its life is measured in terms of hours and if it buys a firecracker it lasts but a second.

IT MAY even be spent for something harmful, in which case the result is—minus.

TALENTS and dollars need careful spending to become most productive, but unlike the "talent hid under a bushel" a Saved Dollar deposited in a Bank Account increases in productivity through the establishment of Credit.

OUR facilities for increasing the productivity of your idle Dollars are constantly available.

Light Condition Now!

Eyestrain thrives on poor lighting! It is a real and dangerous foe to youthful eyes. It saps nervous energy and often causes physical upsets and defective vision. It is largely responsible for one out of every four students of high school age, on the average, having something wrong with his eyes.

Save your vision—Protect your eyes with good lighting—Better Vision is Better Living. Strain free eyes make you look better—feel better—work and play and study with greater ease, comfort and efficiency.

Your Electric Company will gladly send one of its lighting specialists to study and analyze your lighting conditions in the home, school, office or factory. This service is available to you without charge—Use it now!
